

Jan T. Gross studies modern Europe, focusing on comparative politics, totalitarian and authoritarian regimes, Soviet and East European politics, and the Holocaust. In 2007, Professor Gross published a book on anti-Semitism in Poland after World War II, and in 2009 he co-authored a study with Stephen Kotkin entitled "Uncivil Society: Communist Implosion in 1989". Professor Gross's latest book, Golden Harvest, is on plunder of Jews by the local population in Nazi-occupied Europe.

TEL AVIV UNIVERSITY  אוניברסיטת תל-אביב

Faculty of Humanities

The International Institute for Holocaust Research - Yad Vashem

The Institute for the History of Polish Jewry and Israel-Poland Relations

The S. Daniel Abraham Center for International and Regional Studies

The Roth Institute for the Study of Contemporary Antisemitism and Racism

The Cummings Center for Russian and East European Studies invite students, scholars and researchers to a lecture on:

ON THE PERIPHERY OF THE HOLOCAUST

KILLINGS AND PLUNDER OF JEWS BY THEIR NEIGHBORS

Greetings: Professor Aron Shai, Rector, Tel Aviv University

Lecturer: Professor Jan T. Gross, Princeton University

Sunday, March 25, 2012, at 18:00

Tel Aviv University, Gilman Building, room 496